WOMEN TAKE UP A FIGHT

THE EXPECTED RESULT OF THE GLOVE AND HOSIERY TAXES HAS COME.

ALL SEDALIA WIVES ARE INTERESTED

Why Are the Nation's Expenses Tackled on the Things Women Buy, While Steel, Beer and Timber Are Favored?

Washington, March 26.—The expected onslaught on the gloves and hosiery schedules of the Payne tariff bill has begun. One of the big Washington department stores prints a large display advertisement in last afternoon's newspapers, calling on women shoppers to protest to Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee against the increase in these two schedules. In large type it proclaims that the gloves which it will sell today for 97 cents will cost $1.50 under the new tariff bill. It continues in big letters:

"Write to Mr. Payne tonight."

"Mr. Payne has charge of the bill which will increase the price of gloves and stockings. Let every woman and every man with mother, wife, sister or sweetheart, write Mr. Payne to this effect."

"If 40 or 50 per cent of protection has not given Mr. Littauer and others the skill to produce kid gloves and stockings that women will wear, will more protection do it?"

"You'll remember Littauer as the prime objector to a raise in salary of government clerks—and now he wants the government to further tax your gloves for his benefit. Object! Object! You can be a good republican and consistently object. Write Mr. Payne this very night."

"Eighteen cents tomorrow for 25-cent stockings. All the best hose will be higher priced, or lowered in quality when not raised in price, if the increased tax remains in the Payne bill. Object! Object! Object! Be on the safe side and secure supplies tomorrow."

Even without such advertisements, congressmen are getting protests from women in many parts of the country, who have heard that stockings and gloves are to cost more. If department stores all over the country should take the thing up and print similar appeals in advertising columns, congress would be buried under such an avalanche of letters as might well make the boldest blade on the republican side run to cover.

Congressmen really don't care to antagonize the women folks, and they are recognizing the fact that they will be in a sad state if gloves and hosiery become an issue in the next election.

It has been figured out by the book of estimates published by the ways and means committee that the Payne bill proposes to continue to raise 200 millions a year—two-thirds of the customs revenue from foods, cotton, linen and woolen goods, chinaware and sundries, such as leather goods, beads and other things that women buy. On practically none of these articles of household use is the duty lowered.

Critics of the Payne bill are inquiring why no attempt was made to remove at least a few millions of the taxes on the home, when the duties were reduced on steel, machinery and timber. The deficit would have had to be made up, to be sure, by an income tax, or by a resort to some of the Spanish war internal revenue taxes, including an increased tax on beer.

But the mere statement of this fact isn't regarded as a good answer to the question why congress made so little effort to lessen the burden of the wage earner.

BURIAL OF MR. YEATER

Funeral Services Were Conducted This Afternoon.

The funeral of John J. Yeater, who died at his home yesterday morning, was held from the family residence, 302 South Grand avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated, and Mesdames W. D. Steele and C. H. Bard were in charge of the music.

The following selections were rendered: "Rock of Ages," "Abide With Me" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Numerous beautiful floral tributes rested on the casket.

Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

and the following gentlemen served as pallbearers: G. A. Sturges, William Courtney, Dr. J. W. McClure, Douglas Lane, W. S. Baker and Judge Geo. F. Longan.

Skating Party Last Night

Misses Maud Willis and Margaret Buren very delightfully entertained the following young ladies at a skating party last night: Mary Sprecher, Mayme Klink, Nannie O'Brien, Eva Hillyard, Elsie Hillyard, Ethel Ludemann, Anna Ruby Dillard, Frances West, Lucile Brandt, Margaret Buren and Maud Willis. The party was chaperoned by Miss Harriet Trick and Mrs. H. C. Willis. After the skating was over the guests enjoyed light refreshments at Daniels.

$65,000 OF BANDIT GOLD

ILLINOIS SEARCHERS ARE AFTER STOLEN TREASURE BURIED LONG AGO.

TRYED TO BUY THE LAND FOR $20,000

Owner Refuses to Sell, but He Agrees to Permit Search for Share of Loot—Will Get One-Fifth or the Find.

Decatur, Ill., March 26.—All the southeastern part of Shelby county around Trowbridge prepared to get out early yesterday to watch a party of treasure seekers dig for $65,000 in gold.

This is the story: During the Civil war three men came from Trowbridge built a cabin in the river bottoms and lived as hermits. One morning two of them were found murdered.

Last week two young men, accompanied by two aged women, visited the owner of the farm, where the cabin stood, and offered him $20,000 for twenty acres. He would not sell.

Then the visitors told him that the three men who lived in the cabin were bank robbers. They quarreled and one killed the other two. He left $6,000 buried under the cabin and fled.

On his deathbed he told the story. The young men and women, his relatives, had come to get the money. They offered one-fifth to the owner if he would help. He agreed.

COULD NOT AGREE

State and Railroad Officials Unable to Reach Middle Ground.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—That there has been a practical failure of all rate negotiations between the state and railroad officials here was apparent today after another fruitless conference and a decision by the senate not to interfere.

It is considered probable that the roads will put the old 3-cent fares into effect early next month, and that the legislature will retaliate by passing bills requiring the sale of mileage books at the rate of 2 cents a mile and giving the state railroad commissioners power to fix all passenger rates.

SEDALIA GUN CLUB SHOOT

It Was Held at Liberty Park Thursday Afternoon.

The weekly shoot of the Sedalia gun club was held at Liberty park Thursday afternoon.

Mont Thatcher won the first medal, with a clean score of 25.

G. W. Anderson was second, scoring 22 out of a possible 25, and Fred Hoffman, Jr., John McGrath and J. B. Brown tied for the third medal, each scoring 21 out of a possible 25.

D. G. Barstow and Denny Holland, professional marksmen, scored 97 each out of a possible 100 shots.

TEN MILLIONS WILL DO

Director of the Census Has Withdrawn Request for Larger Sum.

Washington, March 26.—In view of the deficit in the treasury, Director North, of the census bureau, has withdrawn his request for an appropriation of $14,000,000 for the next census and has substituted a request for $10,000,000.

BAER AND FOR BAER

This Will Be a "Ten" Strike.

THE DRY'S ARE PLEASED

BELIEVE THE OUTLOOK IS EXCELLENT FOR SUBMISSION OF PROHIBITION.

MRS. F. H. INGALLS URGES IT IS BUT FAIR

Speakers Before Amendments Committee Appeal for Vote by the People—Wets to Be Heard Next Week.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—We are much encouraged by what we have learned in Jefferson City and firmly believe that the legislature will vote to submit a state-wide prohibition amendment to the people in 1910."

This statement was made by Mrs. F. H. Ingalls, of St. Louis, after the prohibition hearing held in the senate chamber Wednesday night.

Dr. W. B. Palmore, of St. Louis, introduced the speakers, and Mrs. Ingalls made an address. She drew a comparison between conditions today and twenty years ago when the women came before the legislature to ask for prohibition and were turned down. Mrs. Ingalls told the committee on constitutional amendments that she fully expected them to make a favorable report, and that the legislature would submit the question.

"It is only fair," she said. "That is all we ask. Submission would be as fair to the brewer, the distiller and the saloon keeper as it would be to the prohibitionists. If you left the saloon question to the women, we would settle it very quickly. Since we cannot vote, however, we must ask that you leave it to the men. Women all over the state are praying for submission as well as petitioning for it."

Mrs. Ingalls handed Senator McPherson a long petition signed solely by St. Louis laboring men in refutation of the statement that only women and children are petitioning for prohibition.

Charles Stokes, of Kansas City, spoke on behalf of the prohibition party, of which he is state chairman. He said the prohibition party did not start the movement in Missouri for submission. Stokes made a strong plea for submission on political grounds, and said it was certain to come anyhow, and the legislature might as well take the necessary step. He also said he believed 99 out of every 100 prohibitionists in the state would be willing to commit political suicide if they could get prohibition in that way.

Mrs. Stokes, state president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, ion, made an address on behalf of the "Motherhood, Wifehood, Sisterhood and Daughtership of the state."

Other speakers were W. M. Goodwin, of Clinton, a prohibition party worker; Rev. John Wesley Smith and Rev. Ray Palmer of Jefferson City, and Dr. Palmore, who spoke briefly in closing. The committee members listened respectfully and attentively and asked no questions.

No representative of the "wets" took part. It is expected that opponents will be heard next Wednesday night. Just who will appear is not yet known, but a hearing has been requested. Every seat in the senate chamber was occupied during the entire hearing, and the points made by the speakers were generously applauded.

WOMAN HAD BOGUS COIN

A FEDERAL OFFICER BELIEVES HE HAS CAUGHT BOLD COUNTERFEITERS.

TWO MALES AND ONE FEMALE ARRESTED

Surmise Is That the Men Made the Spurious Money, Which Was Put in Circulation by the Woman Accomplice.

Kansas City, Mo., March 26.—With the arrest of Don Kelly, Charles King and Mary Cook, the police believe they have broken up a gang of counterfeiters responsible for a large quantity of bad silver that has been put in circulation in Kansas City recently. Kelly was arrested in Kansas City, Kan., for passing a bad dollar.

John A. Adams, a secret service man, went to Kansas City, Kan., and questioned Kelly with such success that Kelly took him to a house where he said there was a counterfeiting plant in operation.

Yesterday the officers saw a woman emerge from the place and board a car for Argentine. The woman made several small purchases in Argentine, each time changing a spurious dollar. Once she stopped a little girl on the street and asked her if she could change a dollar. Adams then arrested her.

King was arrested later at the house and confessed that they had been making bad dollars for two months.

Ed Hurley to Have a Sale

Edward Hurley, of this city, now engaged in the real estate business at Kansas City, will hold a public auction of houses and lots and vacant lots at Moberly tomorrow afternoon.

This practically closes the case as far as Cleveland is concerned, as all further action will be taken by the Pennsylvania authorities.

However, the Cleveland police have a club over the heads of the Boyles in a joint indictment returned yesterday charging James H. Boyle and Helene Boyle, alias Faulkner, with blackmail.

That charge is based on the payment of $10,000 ransom by J. P. Whittle, for the recovery of his son. This indictment will be used by the local officials in the event that the case in Pennsylvania fails of conviction.

ON THE CHORUS, $25,000

IT WAS SPENT BY MAN CHARGED WITH VICTIMIZING YALE STUDENTS.

BOASTS OF ENTERTAINING SHOW GIRLS

He Once Posed as a Son of Vice President Fairbanks and Secured Special Train from Denver to Chicago.

New York, March 26.—George Cheever, son of a former chief of police of Andover, Mass., who has been posing as a Yale man, was arraigned in court yesterday and held in $2,000 bail for trial on a charge of forgery.

Cheever, who is 24 years old, is said to have obtained something like $20,000 in the last six months from the fathers of college men.

He boasted in court that he had spent $25,000 in a few months in entertaining chorus girls and playing the races.

Cheever has served time, according to the police, in the Concord, N. H. reformatory and on Blackwell's Island, here.

One of the boldest moves happened in April, 1907, when he entered Chicago on a special train he had chartered in Denver.

He got the train through posing as a stepson of Vice President Fairbanks. He was arrested, but the railroad officials refused to prosecute and he was discharged.

CLEAR'S A MURDER MYSTERY

James Story Says He Threw a Nebraskan's Body Into a River.

Valentine, Neb., March 26.—The mystery attaching to the murder of Fred Smith, of Grafton, Neb., last October, was cleared yesterday, when James Story, of Douglas, Wyo., confessed to the killing. He told the sheriff and the county attorney that he shot Smith and robbed him of $45 in cash and a certificate of deposit for $340. The certificate he subsequently destroyed.

Story says he and Smith were traveling together and he shot his companion while he slept. He threw the body into the Nebraska river, where it was found a few days later. Story was captured, after a long chase, in LeGrand, Ore., but protested his innocence until today.

Prisoners Taken to Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 26.—John P. Boyle and his wife, the kidnappers of little Billy Whittle, of Sharon, Pa., arrived here at 9:45 o'clock last night from Cleveland, whither they came at their own request. They are in the Allegheny county jail.

One of the conditions made by Boyle upon waiving extradition from Ohio was that he and his wife be brought to Pittsburgh before being taken to Mercer, Pa., county seat of Mercer county, in which Sharon is located, and where they will have to stand trial for the kidnapping of the Whittle boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, who kidnapped Billy Whittle Thursday, March 18, received $10,000 ransom from his father for his return in Cleveland Monday, and were arrested Tuesday, were yesterday arraigned in Cleveland on an indictment charging blackmail.

The Cleveland authorities waived previous jurisdiction, and the pair were started for Pittsburgh at 5:25 o'clock last evening on an Erie train. They were accompanied by the sheriff of Mercer county and half a dozen detectives.

Deputy Collector Resigns.

Harry Harnsberger has resigned the position of deputy county collector, and has accepted a position as traveling salesman for S. Glaser & Co., importers of lace embroidery, with St. Louis headquarters. His headquarters will be in Sedalia, and he will travel in Missouri and Northern Kansas.

TURN ABOUT FAIR PLAY

THIS IS THE BELIEF OF HCN, D. E. WRAY AND THE HON. J. M. WILLIAMS.

They Were Schoolmates and Have Been Life Long Political Opponents—One Succeeds the Other Time and Again.

D. E. Wray, of Versailles, who was in Booneville the first of the week to attend the Training School board meeting, related to a reporter of the Call the history of his life and a few incidents connecting his political career with that of J. M. Williams, of California, Mo., who has been appointed by Governor Hadley to succeed Wray as a member of the board.

As the story goes, Wray and Williams were boys together—were schoolmates, attended the same law school, hoarded at the same hotel, but were always opponents in politics.

When the two were admitted to the bar at California, Mo., they were both nominated for city attorney. Wray riding the democratic horse and Williams the republican. Williams was elected and served his term.

At the next election they were placed in the saddle again and Wray came out victorious. The incident was repeated the third time in favor of Williams, and Wray concluded to move to Versailles.

A few years later Wray was nominated by his party as a candidate for representative and Williams came out on the populist ticket and won.

THE FORESTRY SERVICE.

The government will need some three hundred or more foresters this year and their selection will be made by civil service examinations. There will be places ranging from $800 to $2,500 a year, and there are future possibilities in the department of still more valuable jobs to those who show special aptitude or scientific knowledge.

Gifford Pinchot, the chief government forester, who was the first native born American to take up that profession and who has developed the present forest policy of the United States, says:

"To be a good forester a man should combine something of the naturalist with a good deal of the business man. To know how to use the forest he must be able to study it. He must have, therefore, a power for observation, a fondness for nature and the ability to penetrate her secrets. But if he is to succeed he must have good, practical judgment and the ability to meet and handle men. He must be resourceful, able to stand by himself, and willing to undergo the privations of rough life and capable of commanding the respect of rough men, who quickly recognize virility and genuineness of character, but will not tolerate pretense or the assumption of superiority."

"A forester needs a vigorous mind in a vigorous body. He must be of the kind that likes to get things done and does not give up because things are not going his way. He will have to face difficulties and work out problems far from outside help, relying solely upon himself. He ought to be hard to whip."

"The professional forester can not hope for big fees and certain pleasant surroundings of life which crown distinguished success in some other professions. The first prizes which are bestowed upon the eminent lawyer, the great physician, are not yet open to him. He must be content without much luxury; he will have to spend a good deal of time out of reach of ordinary comforts; he must be able and willing to rough it without complaint, to sleep on hard beds, eat homely fare, endure prolonged exertion and get along with plain people. On the other hand, if he is at all fitted for his profession (and a few weeks of actual forest work or good summer school work will tell him whether he is or not), there is open to him a very rich reward—life in the open, in the midst of beautiful and healthful surroundings, creative work of unmatched usefulness in any material field, a place of large responsibility and dignity, and with it all a fair living."

"If the forester's temperament is scientific, he will have the joy of the discoverer and organizer of knowledge in a rich and almost virgin field. While it be practical he will have a chance of sharing in a national work of prime importance to our people, both now and hereafter."

At last the long neglected and much despised Jersey pine is about to come into its own. The bureau of forestry has taken an interest in it and has discovered that it has much value as a material from which to make paper pulp. It seems that with a slight change in the so-called cooking process the pine yields an excellent quality of pulp under the sulfite process, which practical papermakers have pronounced to be strong, long fibered and hard wearing pulp, especially desirable for making bags and news and wrapping papers. This discovery will doubtless greatly enhance the value of many thousands of acres covered with this scrub growth.

Ever since coinage was established in this country the principle has been followed that the face of a citizen should not appear on the coins, and the recent decision to substitute the portrait of Lincoln for the Indian head on the cent marks a decided departure. Washington opposed the use of his portrait on the coins of the United States. The senate favored placing the portrait of the president on the silver dollar and many busts of Washington were made by the engravers in 1791 and 1792, but none were ever approved by him, and the head of Liberty was finally adopted. The majority of early American statesmen regarded such use of a portrait as a monarchial practice.

The reappearance of public men at the White House, who have not called there for years, is the cause of much newspaper comment. There is no reason why democrats and republicans alike should not visit President Taft and discuss public business. He combines amiability without weakness and firmness without being disagreeable. His manner is peculiarly his own. A good beginning has been made, but the test is by far the severest that Mr. Taft has yet stood and his progress will be watched with much interest.

In support of the theory that marriage is involuntary servitude, a man contends that having to carry up all the coal, hustle out the ashes, split the kindling, feed the chickens, watch the incubator, clean the stable and polish stoves and content himself with 50 cents a week spending money out of his own wages, that the thing is as near to it as can be expressed.

When a man comes home late with the excuse that business has detained him, he is lucky if he can pronounce "business" without arousing suspicion.

CARRIE NATION'S NIECE

MISS CARRIE MOORE, LIVING IN KANSAS CITY, IS TO BE A "SMASHER," TOO.

JUST HOME FROM THEIR EUROPEAN TRIP

The Niece, Who Is 23 Years Old, Says She Will Wreck a Saloon Whenver She Gets the Necessary Amount of Nerve.

St. Louis, Mo., March 26.—Carrie Nation, who rolled into Union station at 7 o'clock Thursday morning fresh from Europe, is carrying with her an understudy in the person of her niece, Miss Carrie Moore, of Kansas City, intelligent-looking, talkative and 23, who accompanied her aunt on her travels abroad, observing the methods of the greatest saloon-smasher of the century.

Miss Moore admits that she is a pupil of her aunt, as well as her secretary, and says:

"I am studying Aunt Carrie's methods, with an idea of carrying on her crusade when she gets too old, for our family will never permit her work to die out."

I think Aunt Carrie is the grandest woman on earth. They call me 'Carrie,' instead of 'Carrie,' to differentiate me from her. I haven't got the nerve yet, but as soon as I can muster the courage, I, too, will go into a saloon and try my hand at smashing something."

She might try a mint smash. That has been known to increase the courage of even the most faint-hearted.

Mrs. Nation and her niece had breakfast in the lunch room downstairs at the station, and at 9 o'clock started for Guthrie, Okla., where Mrs. Nation will be the defendant in a lawsuit next Monday. Here is the way she explained the matter:

"A man down there wanted me to go on his note for $3,000. He promised to get other signatures, but did not. I signed; he failed to pay, and so I was stung. Now they are suing me, but I will win."

"After I get through there I am going to Alpena Pass, Ark., but just as soon as I can get my business affairs straightened out, I will hurry back to Washington, from where I just came."

"I am going to start something at the national capital, and they will know I am in town. The first thing I will do will be to smash the bar in the new union station there. They call it the handsomest station in the world, and I guess it is. The bar is luxurious, but it is a disgrace to this country. I am going to smash it just as soon as possible."

"I would have smashed it when I was there day before yesterday, only I didn't have time. I knew they would arrest me, and I couldn't spare the time, because, you see, I have to be in Guthrie before next Monday."

"The election of Taft was the greatest mistake the people of this country ever made, and it is certain to bring disaster."

"I spent three months in England and Scotland. I didn't think it was much use to go to Ireland, as that country is pretty good already.

"Both England and Scotland are far behind us in almost every point of progress. They don't even keep up with us in the matter of drunkenness. In England the greatest bar to advancement is the title system. No man who is engaged in business can be a gentleman, according to their idea.

"I did my best to abolish Scotch whiskey while I was over there because I understand it is the worst whisky made, but did not succeed. A great deal of Scotch whisky is made at Peoria, Ill., I hear, and I have not been there yet.

"In England I smashed only one bar, and that cost me a fine of only 5 shillings, which was paid by a friendly Scotchman. The regular fine is £5, said the judge, but I will let you off easy. I was disappointed.

"I was ashamed of my country when I saw Englishmen smoking cigarettes imported from the United States."

COMEDY A CAPRICIOUS THING

Miss Kathryn Osterman Talks of the Art of Producing Laughter.

Kathryn Osterman, who has won the title of the laughter-loving comedienne, was recently asked whether every audience might be depended upon to always laugh in the right place.

"The playing of comedy is a capricious thing," she said as her plump, beweaved fingers smoothed the polished mahogany of the chair arm in the parlor of her hotel. "Some times, when people are most enjoying a comic situation there is no loud laughter, but rather, a gentle bubbling of mirth. That is the sort of appreciation which an actress likes better than the loud guffaw."

"Does not the audience sometimes laugh in unexpected places?"

"Yes, indeed, that often occurs, and then the player does her best to study out what produced that laugh. Was it an infection, a movement of the hand, a pause, a break in her voice? Often it puzzles one greatly to determine what it was that produced the laugh, and for my own part, I am never content until I have found the answer. And once the answer has been found I don't lose that laugh. It belongs to me. Every night I get it."

"Does not a good comedy line sometimes fail to get a laugh?"

"Yes, but the blame is not with the audience. You see, such a number of little things may spoil an effect. There are times when too short or too long a pause will spoil everything. Not enough vivacity, or too much vivacity, in speaking a line; too little facial expression, a wrong intonation, stress given a wrong word—any of these trifles may spoil a laugh, and every laugh, as the managers say, is worth a dollar."

"Do you support the idea that some comedians have of 'anything to get a laugh'?"

"Not at

FOLK FOR COMMISSION PLAN

The Ex-Governor Also Said the Tariff Was a Graft.

Atlanta, Ga., March 26.—"In its last analysis, the tariff is graft," said ex-Governor Folk, of Missouri at a luncheon given him here yesterday by the Young Men's Democratic league of Fulton county.

"Let us have no more protection for monopoly, but let the people be protected from monopoly," said the former governor.

"Under the present tariff system the farmers of the south have to sell their products in competition with the world, but they have to buy from the protected interests."

In concluding, Mr. Folk declared himself in favor of the commission plan of government for cities.

JEALOUS WOMAN'S DEED

ALLEGED THAT MRS. RUSSELL CULBERTSON WAS CRUELLY MURDERED.

HAD A RIVAL FOR LOVE OF HER HUSBAND

Relatives of the Deceased Will Not for an Instant Entertain Suicide Theory—The Latest in the Sensation.

Vincennes, Ind., March 26.—The case of Mrs. Russell Culbertson, supposed victim of foul play, who died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning without regaining consciousness, her husband vainly appealing to her for a farewell word, is still the one theme of conversation and many murder theories have been advanced.

Several persons were found whose explanations may throw some light on the tragedy. Mrs. Zachariah Connell, living across the street from the Culbertson home, told of seeing a man and woman loitering around the Culbertson house Sunday evening and heard one of them say: "Let's get away from here."

Mrs. Manson Coca, of Lawrenceville, said:

"Mrs. Culbertson was visiting at the home of Mrs. W. L. Burkett, at Lawrenceville, last Tuesday. She was there to see her husband, who is a bookkeeper. Mrs. Culbertson was very excited and seemed to be in a state of constant fear, and said: 'They (meaning a man and woman) have dogged my footsteps all the way from Vincennes. I'm afraid they mean their threats.'

"She referred to the letters which threatened her with death."

The dead woman's husband and relatives insist that she was a victim of foul play, and directly and openly affirm their belief that a native of Hillsboro, Ill., the jilted rival for Culbertson's affections, is connected with the case.

Official investigation continues under directions of the relatives, whose hope lies in having the woman apprehended.

In case the suicide theory proves correct, it will show that the dead woman most carefully arranged her plans, for, although Chief Evans, Captain Kruse and other members of the police force, have devoted all their time to the case, they are unable to determine whether it is suicide or murder.

Could they learn positively that a man and woman were in the vicinity of the Brazleton home at any time yesterday, they would not hesitate to believe the case one of murder.

The police search for the woman has developed nothing further than that she was working in a telephone exchange at Paris, Ky., some time ago.

The fact that the deed was committed in daylight, with persons almost near enough to the shed to touch it, and that no persons were seen to enter the neighborhood or leave, is grounds for the suicide theory.

Mrs. Edna Culbertson, asked if she thought there was a possibility of her sister-in-law having committed suicide, said:

"My God, how can you suggest that? If you had been with her during the past week, as I have, you would know as well as I that she was murdered. If you will find the woman I accuse, you will be convinced that it was murder.

Sight Draft Cigars
ALL DEALERS

"This woman followed Mr. Culbertson everywhere he went. In my home one night, before Jessie and Russell were married, the woman I accuse swore in my presence that unless Russell married her and not Jessie she would kill him and then herself. He got from her many letters, the handwriting of which is the same as of the letters Jessie got."

"Since these letters came we have tried not to let Jessie be alone a moment. She has not slept. All her anxiety was that Russell, and not she, would be killed. While I am not positive, I believe that I saw this woman and a man pass the house Wednesday morning. The woman was veiled."

Suicide Theory Is Growing.
Vincennes, Ind., March 26.—Mystery still surrounds the death of Mrs. Russell Culbertson, who was found bound and gagged near her home Wednesday, and who declared she was forced to swallow poison by enemies.

Reports are current that she twice attempted suicide recently and the police are inclined to believe she took her own life. No trace has been found of any strangers in the neighborhood on the afternoon of the tragedy.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

Aunt Nancy Shaffer's Body Found in Ruins of Her Home.

Denison, Texas, March 26.—Mrs. Nancy Shaffer, aged about 60 years, was burned to death while sitting in the door of her home, No. 1321 West Crawford street, at 5:30 yesterday morning.

There is an air of mystery about the affair, the details of which will probably never be known. Wednesday afternoon she told neighbors that she was old and ready to die and told many of them goodbye. Nothing was thought of this, as she was feeble and of a moody disposition. She had made similar remarks before.

Lige Dupree, a colored man who lives across the street, saw her sitting in the door yesterday morning about 5 o'clock when going to work and spoke to her, but does not remember if she made a reply.

After the fire her body was found at about where the door was burned to a crisp, the legs and arms burned off. The body was taken in charge by W. H. Halton, an undertaker, and will be held pending a decision as to funeral arrangements.

DAMAGES AWARDED IN FEDERAL COURT FOR INJURIES TO AN EMPLOYEE.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources For the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The first decision in the United States under the employers' liability act, passed by congress last spring after the former act was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court by a vote of 5 to 4, was made by Judge Rogers at Fort Smith, Ark., yesterday, sitting in the federal court of the Western district of Arkansas.

The case was a suit for damages for personal injuries against the Midland Valley railroad by Fulgin, administrator of the estate of E. C. Pogue, a freight conductor, for $45,000. The result was damages awarded in the amount of $7,500.

The interstate commerce commission after the passage of the last act, wrote to all federal courts in the United States to learn where the first case would be tried. When it was learned that Judge Rogers would be the first judge to interpret the act, the commission wrote to the attorney for the plaintiff and offered to send counsel here to assist Col. Oscar L. Miles.

The case will be appealed and will be tried in the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Louis.

Proposed Electric Road.

Capt. M. L. Belt was up from Higginsville Tuesday transacting business in connection with the proposed electric road between Lexington and Odessa, says the Lexington News.

Capt. Belt has just recently returned from a trip to St. Louis, where he had been to interview the State Trust company, the concern that proposes to finance the road, and was in high glee over the prospects of the enterprise being an assured success.

The trust company will have a representative here, accompanied by his engineer, between the 1st and 5th of April to go over the proposed route and put matters in tangible shape for financing the enterprise.

Harriman's Consulting Board.

The Chicago Record Herald prints the following special dispatch from San Francisco:

"The statement is made in exclusive railroad circles that E. H. Harriman is preparing to form in the near future a consulting board which will have its headquarters in New York. The proposed board, which will relieve Mr. Harriman of a vast amount of work, will consist of W. F. Herrin, Julius Kruttschnitt, J. C. Stubbs and William Hood."

"This board will have charge of all the Harriman properties, consisting of the railroads, electric lines, power plants, oil fields and steamship lines, and will control transportation, maintenance, office arrangement and construction."

Masked Men Bind Depot Agent.

Two masked men robbed Ernest Jenkins, the night operator at the Vandalia railway depot at Marshall, Ill., early yesterday morning, tying him with ropes and taking $40.

They demanded that he open the safe, and fired pistols in front of him, but he convinced them he did not know the combination.

on M. K. & T. train No. 3, en route to Clinton. It was labeled "W. G. & St. L." and was occupied by W. N. Mitchell and family.

The Democrat-Sentinel referred to the outfit as a "miniature circus" passing through Sedalia. It was a circus, in fact, a car of that description to be the personal property of a railway general manager.

The Clinton Democrat, under the caption, "A Vigilant Reporter," calls attention to the article, wholly misrepresenting the Democrat-Sentinel's meaning in referring to the car as a "miniature circus."

The Katy machine shops at Denison closed down yesterday, and the Herald says they may also close Saturday. The car shops there closed this week, not to reopen until April 1.

HERE IS A NEW ARGUMENT

EDITOR SAYS BREWER IS LOGICAL ALLY OF TEMPERANCE WORKER.

HOW TO CHECK THE PROHIBITION WAVE

Henry E. O. Heinemann Says If the Use of Brewed Beverages Is Wrong, Then Manufacture and Sale Are Wrong.

Chicago, March 26.—Henry E. O. Heinemann, editor of the American Brewers' Review, digresses from the usual trend of argument used by brewers to check the prohibition wave. In suggestions to the Society of Brewing Technology for the betterment of the drink traffic, he says:

If the use of brewed beverages is wrong, then the manufacture and sale of them is wrong, and I, for one, would not engage in or defend the business. If the business is right, as I believe it to be, we are compromising with ourselves and belittling our cause by admitting the manufacture and sale of it to be a necessary evil and complaining about property loss.

"The brewer," he concludes, "is the logical ally of the temperance worker and the sooner the two forces recognize each other the sooner will true temperance and better social conditions be realized."

SAOON THOUGHT NO. 105.

Just compare the good that the railroads have been to the state of Missouri, and what a most terrible influence to the state the breweries have been and yet our Governor Hadley makes a decided stand against the railroads, and then says that he is not in favor of prohibiting the sale and manufacturing of intoxicating drinks.

To think that he knows that there are thousands of little children that are loved as dearest as he loves his own, that are having their very lives ground out, and poor, innocent women are beaten and cuffed around like dogs, and the penitentiary has at least 1,500 convicts put there by the work of the brewer and distiller, and yet he wants them to continue their work.

We admire our governor, but it would be much more good to all concerned for him to stand pat for the home and poor little children and the innocent mothers that are crushed by the brewers, than to fight so heroically against the railroads and corporations.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED

THE CONFERENCE WITH STATE OFFICIALS ON PASSENGER RATES.

TWO PROPOSITIONS PENDING UP TODAY

Difference Between Governor and Attorney General—Legislative Committee to Confer on Basis of Compromise.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—No agreement or compromise was reached last night between the state and the railroads with respect to either the continuance of 2-cent passenger fare or some equivalent to it less than the 3-cent fare which the railroads proposed to put in force after April 10 as a result of the conference held between Governor Hadley, Attorney General Major and members of the senate and house committee on railroads on the one side and the representatives, mostly traffic officials, of eleven lines on the other.

The state presented a proposition to be in force as a sort of truce until the decision of the United States supreme court is had in the rate case and the railroads presented a counter proposition. After a long conference at the executive mansion last night, first between the railroad officials, the governor, attorney general and members of the legislature, and later among the representatives of the state, it was decided to ask the railroad officials to remain until today, when a further conference will be held. Late last night the railroads, who say they have presented their final proposition, agreed to remain, although they had arranged to leave.

The governor and members of the legislature presented the following proposition, against which Attorney General Major stands out: The issuance and sale of 2,000 mile credential books, good on all the roads, at a 2-cent rate; 1,000 mile owner books, good on only the road issuing them, at 2 cents a mile; 500-mile credential books, good for bearer on one road, 2½ cents a mile; tickets to the general public, 2½ cents a mile; with a reduction of 10 per cent for round trips.

The railroads offered the following as a counter-proposition, and say it is their final ultimatum in that direction, according to J. L. Minnis, general solicitor of the Wabash, last night:

First—To issue and sell to persons an interchangeable credential check for $1, the owner to pay 3 cents a mile, and if he travels in the aggregate over all roads 2,000 miles during a year, a refund of one-third would be given, making his fare 2 cents a mile.

Second—To issue a 500-mile book to bearer, good on all roads, at 2½ cents.

Third—To issue a 500-mile book to owner, good on the selling road, at 2½ cents a mile.

Fourth—Three cents for all other passengers, less 10 per cent for round trip tickets.

On returning he received telegraphic orders to turn over the command of his ship immediately and proceed at once to Vancouver, reporting his arrival there by telegraph and keeping the department informed regarding his actions until today, and then sail for Samoa on a sailing vessel.

THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY

DOVE THE WIFE OF A TOBACCO MAGNATE TO SUICIDE IN NEW YORK.

MRS. PIERRE LORILLARD, INHALES GAS

Woman Who Took Her Life Had Joined Freely at Townsend Function, Where Diplomats Were Among Guests.

Washington, March 26.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face, as she believed, with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation at her home near the fashionable Dupont Circle in this city yesterday.

Her tragic death shocked the first social circle of the capital as nothing else in recent years. Last night the members of the Lorillard family, famous because of its wealth, were gathered here to mourn over the unexpected blow. In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, the members of the family declare that Mrs. Lorillard died of heart disease.

The death was made more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been the guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home at 2030 Hilliard place, shortly after midnight yesterday morning she began to prepare for her death.

About 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning the butler at the Lorillard residence detected an odor of gas penetrating the rooms. With little difficulty the origin of the fumes was traced to Mrs. Lorillard's apartments. Opening the door of the bathroom just off her suite, the butler beheld the body of the mistress of the house stretched out lifeless on the floor. Her face was turned to the mat on the floor.

The alarm given by the butler brought Mr. Lorillard from his apartments across the hall. Together they carried the limp body to Mrs. Lorillard's room. Panic stricken, the servant was sent for a doctor, while Mr. Lorillard attempted to revive his wife by means of artificial respiration.

Shortly afterwards Dr. J. Ramsey Nevitt, the coroner, was notified. He visited the Lorillard home, and, after an investigation, ordered Deputy Coroner Glazebrook to perform an autopsy, on the completion of which Dr. Revitt issued a certificate of death by gas poisoning.

Inquiry at the Lorillard home met with the declaration that Mrs. Lorillard had not committed suicide. She died of heart failure," retorted the servants.

Mrs. Lorillard left a note, which the coroner has seen, but which Mr. Lorillard has declined to give his permission to be made public. While addressed to no one, it is said it is personal in its nature. It is understood that it contains no declaration of any intention on the part of Mrs. Lorillard to take her life.

Mrs. Lorillard, before her marriage to Mr. Lorillard, in 1881, was Miss Caroline J. Hamilton. She is survived by two sons, one of whom is now traveling in the Orient, and the other is in college in New York.

Invitations were sent for a luncheon yesterday at the Lorillard home, which were recalled immediately. Sunday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard entertained at one of their Sunday night dinners.

MATTER OF CHEAP POSTAGE

Claim Made It Has Not Proven a Success in Germany.

Berlin, March 26.—In view of many drafts, with bills of lading, reaching Germany by Hamburg fast steamers, while the letters of advice follow by slow steamers, many Hamburg and other German firms are writing to their American correspondents to ask that all important letters be sent by way of England, when there is no fast steamer to Bremen or Hamburg.

The discontent of the German business community with the kind of cheap postage we now have is finding expression in the meetings of chambers of commerce and other commercial bodies, and the matter has been discussed in the Reichstag.

The government is being urged on all sides to complete the reform of postal facilities with America by undertaking the additional expense of sending all letters by way of England whenever that happens to be the fastest route.

A Terrible Custom.

Old customs die very hard in China, and in several parts of the Celestial empire it is still considered a high act of virtue for a woman to publicly commit suicide after the death of her husband. According to the law, the proceeding is actually legal in some provinces, and such is the state of public opinion that in districts where it is officially prohibited the authorities rarely interfere.—The Wide World Magazine.

CURED ITCHING PAINFUL HUMOR

Which had Spread Over Face, Body and Arms—Swellings were as Large as a Dollar—When they Broke, Sores would Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

MADE SOUND AND WELL BY 3 SETS OF CUTICURA

"My trouble began about three years ago with little black swellings scattered over my face and neck. They would disappear but they would leave little black scars that would itch at times so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear in the same place and they were so painful I couldn't bear to scratch them. The first doctor I went to said the disease was scrofula, but the trouble only got worse and spread. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in big swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to lie on my back at night. The second doctor pronounced my disease inflammation of the lymphatic glands. He stopped the swellings, but they would break again.

He tried everything that he could but to no effect. So I said I might be cured but it would take a long time. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and used them according to directions and in less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued with the Cuticura Remedies until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted three years from the time it commenced until I was cured. Before Cuticura something broke out on my seven year old brother's hands in the form of large sores. I tried everything I could think of but to no effect until I happened to think of Cuticura and one application cured him. Also, not long ago, my sister got a bad burn on her ankle. I have been using Cuticura on that and it gave her scarcely any trouble. O. L. Wilson, Puyear, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

"But how about the hare?" he was asked. "Oh!" was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me backward and I fell on the hare as it ran past."—The Sketch.

SECRETS OF THE STAGE ARE REVEALED

The Emotional Actress Appears in the Suit of a Costumer to Collect $1,241—Court Refuses to See Actress Dress.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. Louise Carter-Payne had the center of the stage Wednesday afternoon in a production in the city court entitled, "Mrs. A. Herman, costumer against Louise Carter-Payne, actress," and the latter's husband played an amusing supporting part as chief exhibitor of evidence in the case.

The court also took a hand and summarily barred a disrobing act which was attempted by the defense.

The suit was brought to recover $1,241.25 for costumes made at the order of Mrs. Carter-Payne for her productions of "La Tosca" and "Camille." The actress says the gowns did not fit or were not worth the price and that she is a bankrupt anyway.

Possibly the busiest person in the court room was Payne, the actress' husband, who once had a part in "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots." He had the job of displaying costumes as they were called for.

But, finally, when N. M. Levy, counsel for the defendant, spoke out briskly:

"Now, the costume for Germerino Payne," the exactor never budged.

"Don't know it," he answered, frigidly.

"Where's the queen's crown?" asked the court a few minutes later.

"Yes, Payne, where is the crown?" said Mr. Levy, passing the word along.

Payne made a feeble effort at pawing over the huge pile of clothes and said, with dignity, "Not here, sir." and disappeared.

A costumer, who wouldn't give his name, but said he had played with 'em all, from Booth down, and who looked the part, succeeded Payne as star missing garment producer. He could find everything.

Mrs. Herman was required to identify each of the garments, to tell whether they had been made under her direction, if there had been alterations and what they cost.

"We purpose to show, your honor," said Mr. Levy, "that these costumes made to measurements by plaintiff did not fit those for whom they were made."

Gertrude LaFond, who was to have played Germerino in "La Tosca" production, was asked to pick out her costume. Miss LaFond made a motion as if to unbutton something, and Justice Green pounded with his gavel.

"You can not have that woman try on her costume," he gasped. "I am not going to allow any spectacular affair here. You can not have her try on the costume unless you first prove that the gown was ordered to fit her rather than on certain specific measurements, and, further, you must prove that she has not taken on or lost weight."

"Is it true that you charged $95 for the queen's robe, the biggest part of which is furry Canton flannel with black paint spots to make it look like ermine?" asked Mr. Levy of Mrs. Herman.

The witness replied that much velvet had been used and some velvet.

That the Inter-Church conference organization, permanently organized at Philadelphia last December, is a church trust, using the methods of the Standard Oil Co. in the effort to secure a constitutional declaration of allegiance to the Christian religion on the part of the United States, was asserted by Mrs. Lulu Wightman, the public advocate of religious liberty, delivered to a fair sized audience at the court house last night.

John S. Wightman, the secretary of the Central States Religious Liberty association, stated the object of the meeting and the work the association was doing. Thomas Jefferson, the great political apostle, in his day had uttered a prophecy that the nation would go down hill, that in the art of money-making the people would forget to effect a combination to secure their rights, which would finally expire in a convulsion.

In the rapid conquest of the civic by the religious power, the people will lose their religious liberties, and civil as well, and finally return to medieval times and customs.

Mrs. Wightman, in her address, employed all of the arts of speech, as well as the logic of argument to endeavor to sustain her position. She was heard with marked interest. Mrs. Wightman reviewed what she characterized as the intolerance and bigotry of the Puritans, with their blue laws and death penalties for those whose religious beliefs differed from theirs.

She paid a glowing tribute to Roger Williams for establishing the first commonwealth in the new world, wherein there was religious liberty.

The spirit of the Inter-Church conference, the National Reform association and the Sunday School Union is the same as that which animated the Puritans. She spoke at length on how these organizations openly expressed the hope that by united strength they will be able to control municipal, state and national lawmakers, and secure just the legislation they demanded. Mrs. Wightman declared these organizations resort to lobbying, threatening with defeat at the polls all who refuse to accede to their demands. It was a growing power, a menacing power.

Sunday legislation received special attention from Mrs. Wightman. There were now eight bills before the legislatures, designed to make still more exacting an already very strict Sunday law on the statute books. Sunday legislation is being made a stepping stone for other religious laws that are bound to follow.

"The greatest menace of all," earnestly declared Mrs. Wightman, "lies in the fact that the great masses of the people are not aware of the great movements now going on, and does not rightly estimate the strength and activity of the forces at work, which if permitted to go on to the ultimatum, will destroy the free institutions of our land, and the republic will be destroyed. Already it is possible to read the handwriting on the wall, denying the right of individuality in religion, and the republic is destroyed."

A large quantity of religious liberty literature was distributed at the close of the meeting. From here the secretary and Mrs. Wightman will go to Jefferson City.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription*It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21-cent stamp to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps.
